Tips For Use

Muscle Pain Management relieves aches and pains by helping your system reduce inflammation. The lipophilic properties of the medicine allows it to penetrate deep into the tissue and help ease muscle pain.

The relief is usually felt within just a few minutes after application and, if applications continue, will often remain gone until the muscle has had a chance to heal.

Muscle Pain Management should be applied at least 2-3 times per day every day. For more severe and chronic pain the medicine may be used as needed for additional relief.

Simply apply the medicine directly to the site of the pain and gently rub into the skin.

The amount of medicine per application depends on the muscle being treated. You should use as much Muscle Pain Management as is necessary to create a thin layer of medicine on the skin surrounding the muscle.
