healthier the immune system, the quicker the healing time.

- The length of time your current eczema rash has been present - the longer the symptom has been present, the longer the healing time can be.
- Your application schedule - Eczema Control should be applied at least 2-3 times every day while the symptom exists.

Generally, you will first notice relief from the inflammation and irritation. This will be followed by a reduction of the swelling, redness and dryness in the area. The healing process continues by helping reverse the damage caused by the rash, and repairing the skin back to what it looked like before the outbreak occurred.
